J.P. Morgan ESG EMU Government Bond IG 7-10 Year Index

Index Methodology and Profile

Highlights

The J.P. Morgan ESG EMU Government Bond IG 7-10 Year Index aims to track the performance of eligible fixed-rate, euro-denominated domestic government debt issued by Eurozone countries with minimum €80 billion debt outstanding. Securities or issuers must be rated investment grade and mature in the next 7 to 10 years to be eligible. The index currently includes government bonds issued by Austria, Belgium, Finland, France, Germany, Ireland, Italy, Netherlands, Portugal and Spain. The index applies an Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) scoring and screening methodology to tilt toward issuers ranked higher on ESG criteria, and to underweight or remove issuers that rank lower. The returns and statistics are available since January 2015.

Index Criteria

Minimum Issue Size	€1 billion
Minimum Country Size	€80 billion
Instrument Type	Includes: Fixed-rate and zero-coupon bonds Excludes: Floating-rate bonds, capitalization/amortizing bonds, bonds with callable, puttable, or convertible features
Remaining Maturity	> 7 years and < 10 years

Weighting	Market cap based weighting, subject to adjustments based on JESG scores.
Price Timing	As of the respective local market close
Settlement Convention	Respective local market country convention
Holiday Calendar	Index levels are published on all weekdays. Individual instrument analytics follow respective local market calendar

Bloomberg Ticker	GBIEIG71 return in EUR

JESG Overlay Criteria

The J.P. Morgan ESG EMU Government Bond IG 7-10 Year Index applies the J.P. Morgan JESG methodology as an overlay to the J.P. Morgan EMU Government Bond IG 7-10 Year Index.

For details on the ESG providers, scoring methodology, green bond treatment and exclusions, please refer to the sovereign methodology detailed within the J.P. Morgan ESG Index Suite (JESG) Rules and Methodology.

Defining the universe of eligible countries

The J.P. Morgan ESG EMU Government Bond IG 7-10 Year Index includes liquid, bullet, fixed-rate local debt issued by Eurozone countries with minimum €80 billion debt outstanding. The index currently includes government bonds issued by Austria, Belgium, Finland, France, Germany, Ireland, Italy, Netherlands, Portugal, and Spain. This index includes investment grade rated securities only.

Instrument type

Only fixed-rate and zero coupon instruments are included. Floating-rate and capitalization, amortizing bonds or bonds with callable, puttable or convertible features are not part of the indices.

Liquidity

A key feature that distinguishes our indices from other index products is the strict enforcement of liquidity criteria in the selection of instruments. Yet, while the notion of liquidity differs from market to market, J.P. Morgan indices include only securities, subject to several considerations including but not limited to:

- Pricing: Bonds must trade with enough frequency to prevent stale price quotations
- Availability: Bonds must be regularly traded in size at acceptable bid-offer spreads and readily redeemable for cash. A reasonable two-way market must exist for the instrument to be included in the index portfolio.
- Replication costs: Investors should be able to replicate the index without incurring excessive transaction costs.

Bond calculations

Calculations are according to market convention: all calculations including accrued interest, duration, yield, etc., are done according to local market convention using parameters (ex-dividend rules, settlement conventions, etc.) relevant to each specific bond. All calculations are gross of tax and ignore transactions costs.

Bond pricing: Pricing for our underlying instruments is provided on a daily basis from Pricing Direct, a third party valuation vendor. In the event the primary source for pricing is unable to provide a quote, the Index Group reserves the right to consider the use of an appropriate alternative source for index inputs. Please see http://www.pricing-direct.com for further details.

Ex-dividend rules: ex-dividend rules, when applicable, are incorporated into accrued interest calculations, as appropriate, by country. Ex-dividend rules define the last day a bondholder must own a bond in order to receive that bond's next coupon payment, otherwise known as the ex-dividend date.

- During the period between the ex-dividend date and the coupon date, the bond trades “ex-dividend”
- An investor who purchases a bond for settlement between the ex-dividend date and coupon date will not receive that bond's next coupon payment
- During this period, according to market convention, accrued interest becomes negative resulting in a total price at a discount to the clean price and in effect, compensating the investor for the time the bond will be held without interest
- On coupon date, interest will start to accrue for the subsequent coupon payment

Returns and return indices: return indices on individual bonds are calculated on a daily basis and measure bond performance over time:

- Principal return index is based on changes in clean price
- Interest return index is based on changes in accrued interest
- Total return index is based on changes in both clean price and accrued interest

At the individual bond level focus is on total return. The segregation of interest and principal return becomes relevant at the portfolio level.

Total return indices for individual bonds are calculated as shown below:

$$Index_t = Index_{t-1} \times Total\ Return_t$$

$Index_t$ Index value on day t

Reinvestment of coupons: the J.P. Morgan indices are always fully invested. All coupons received are immediately reinvested back into the local market.

Interest accruals: interest is accrued starting from the bond's dated date up to the first coupon value date. Accrued interest is calculated according to market convention, on a settlement day basis. Interest is accrued by value or settlement date. Weekly, seven days of interest are accrued, including the weekend.

In markets with ex-dividend rules, if a bond is purchased after the ex-dividend date the purchaser will not receive the bond's next coupon. In order to compensate the buyer of the bond, the price paid for the bond must be less than the clean market price, thus, accrued interest will be negative.

Coupon value date: The coupon value date is the trade date associated with settlement on coupon date (the day the coupon is paid). Thus, the coupon value date is the last trade date which an investor may purchase a bond and have that bond settle prior to payment of the subsequent coupon. On coupon value date, accrued interest resets to zero, and accruals begin towards the next coupon.

Yield: effective annual rate of return, expressed as a percentage. Yields are all calculated as yield-to-maturity, which is the discount rate that the present value of future payments equals the price of the security.

Index calculations

Bloomberg Ticker <GBIEIG71>
The base for the index level is: January 1, 2015 = 100.

The index rebalances on the last weekday of each month. Bonds comprising the indices are required to have more than 6 months remaining to maturity on rebalance day for inclusion in the index.

If FX rates from WM Reuters are unavailable on the last weekday of the month (e.g. Good Friday), indices are rebalanced on the previous business day.

The index is weighted by the component countries' aggregate normalized market capitalization (dirty price times par outstanding). These weights are then scaled based on the issuer's JESG score, as described above. The weights change monthly on each rebalance day, and those weights remain active for the remainder of that month.

Accrued interest is assigned to the bonds in the index according to the specific convention of each country's market, and this interest is settlement adjusted.

Daily indicative pricing for each security and FX rate is closely scrutinized and are reconciled using market movements and other pricing sources as guidance. As necessary, an established alternate source will be used to maintain the integrity of daily index calculations. On any given calculation day, if the primary source is unable to provide a quote, the Index Group reserves the right to consider the use of an appropriate alternate source for index inputs, such as pricing and FX. If a permanent switch for the primary third party pricing source is necessary, clients will be notified in advance prior to any official switch.

Important Disclosures

Company-Specific Disclosures: Important disclosures, including price charts and credit opinion history tables (if applicable), are available for compendium reports and all J.P. Morgan–covered companies, and certain non-covered companies, by visiting https://www.jpmm.com/research/disclosures, calling 1-800-477-0406, or e-mailing research.disclosure.inquiries@jpmorgan.com with your request.

History of Investment Recommendations:
A history of J.P. Morgan investment recommendations disseminated during the preceding 12 months can be accessed on the Research & Commentary page of http://www.jpmorganmarkets.com where you can also search by analyst name, sector or financial instrument.

Explanation of Credit Research Valuation Methodology, Ratings and Risk to Ratings:
J.P. Morgan uses a bond-level rating system that incorporates valuations (relative value) and our fundamental view on the security. Our fundamental credit view of an issuer is based on the company's underlying credit trends, overall creditworthiness and our opinion on whether the issuer will be able to service its debt obligations when they become due and payable. We analyze, among other things, the company's cash flow capacity and trends and standard credit ratios, such as gross and net leverage, interest coverage and liquidity ratios. We also analyze profitability, capitalization and asset quality, among other variables, when assessing financials. Analysts also rate the issuer, based on the rating of the benchmark or representative security. Unless we specify a different recommendation for the company's individual securities, an issuer recommendation applies to all of the bonds at the same level of the issuer's capital structure. We may also rate certain loans and preferred securities, as applicable. This report also sets out within it the material underlying assumptions used.

We use the following ratings for bonds (issues), issuers, loans, and preferred securities: Overweight (over the next three months, the recommended risk position is expected to outperform the relevant index, sector, or benchmark); Neutral (over the next three months, the recommended risk position is expected to perform in line with the relevant index, sector, or benchmark); and Underweight (over the next three months, the recommended risk position is expected to underperform the relevant index, sector, or benchmark). J.P. Morgan Emerging Markets Sovereign Research uses Marketweight, which is equivalent to Neutral. NR is Not Rated. In this case, J.P. Morgan has removed the rating for this particular security or issuer because of either a lack of a sufficient fundamental basis or for legal, regulatory or policy reasons. The previous rating no longer should be relied upon. An NR designation is not a recommendation or a rating. NC is Not Covered. An NC designation is not a rating or a recommendation.

For CDS, we use the following rating system: Long Risk (over the next three months, the credit return on the recommended position is expected to exceed the relevant index, sector or benchmark); Neutral (over the next three months, the credit return on the recommended position is expected to match the relevant index, sector or benchmark); and Short Risk (over the next three months, the credit return on the recommended position is expected to underperform the relevant index, sector or benchmark).

ESG Data Integrity: Where an index administered by the Index Administrator pursues environmental, social or governance (ESG) objectives, the Index Administrator is, wholly or in part, reliant on public sources of information and other third party sources. Further, the ability of the Index Administrator to verify such objectives may be limited by the integrity, quality, and detail of the data available in respect of the underlying constituents at the relevant point in time and the status and evolution of global laws, guidelines, regulations, and market practice in relation to the preparation, tracking and provision of such data. Therefore, such disclosures are made on a commercially reasonable efforts basis and are subject to change. In particular, new laws, guidelines or regulations may be introduced in relation to the methodology used to provide corporate ESG ratings which could impact the Index Administrator's ESG index score and the relevant screenings and exclusions and cause them to change. ESG data may be inconsistent across providers. The Index Administrator's ESG index score, relevant screenings and exclusions and related disclosures are also subject to change as a result of periodic reviews conducted by the Index Administrator in relation to the sources of ESG data. In calculating the index in line with the methodology articulated herein, the Index Administrator relies on the data provided by the ESG data providers. The Index Administrator does not independently source its own ESG data or exercise any discretion with respect to the substitution of third party ESG data. The integrity of the ESG data sourced from third parties is limited by the ability of those providers to source accurate data on the ESG performance of certain corporate structures, such as parent versus subsidiary, including SPVs, holding company versus operating company and the activities of any affiliated entities and derived structures. Further, ESG data pertaining to sovereign issuers is limited to the sourcing of ESG performance data at the level of the relevant country. The current data integrity landscape means it is not possible to screen all issuers for exclusion (e.g. issuers other than corporate and quasi-sovereign issuers). Issuers in respect of whom ESG data is limited may still be included in the index.
