Some countries may also require additional information (i.e., telephone number, purpose of payment, routing codes, etc.). Failing to provide all required information may result in payment delays or returns.

Cross-Border Payment Requirement

Intermediary banks are often used when a payment is made in a currency that is different from the local currency. When making a payment through an intermediary bank, their SWIFT BIC must be included.

Key Terms

International Bank Account Number (IBAN)

The International Bank Account Number, IBAN, is an internationally agreed standard to identify an individual’s account at a financial institution. IBANs should be included for all SEPA payments. SWIFT maintains an IBAN registry (https://www.swift.com/swift-resource/9606/download) that provides details on the IBAN structure. The structure consists of a two-letter ISO country code, followed by two check digits and up to 30 alphanumeric characters for the Basic Bank Account Number (BBAN).

Routing Codes

Some countries require the inclusion of national routing codes to facilitate routing within the country’s payment systems. Examples of countries with routing codes are Australia and Canada.

SWIFT BIC

SWIFT BIC is a bank identifier code for members of the SWIFT network. Please note: If a branch BIC is not known, the full name and address should be used.

Canada

CAD - Canadian Dollar

Overview

- Information provided by the Beneficiary: Remitter should obtain all required bank information from the Beneficiary (e.g. Canadian bank branch routing number, SWIFT BIC code and beneficiary bank address). Absence of this information may result in delays or returns.

Country Requirements/Restrictions

- Central Bank: For additional information, please refer to www.bankofcanada.ca.

Currency and Clearing Information: Canada has well-developed high-value and low-value electronic payment systems.

Account Restrictions: Residents and non-residents can hold both domestic and foreign currency accounts. Most Canadian banks offer accounts in USD.

Canada’s “Proceeds of Crime (Money Laundering) and Terrorist Financing Act” and related regulations impose an obligation on all Canadian financial institutions, including J.P. Morgan, to obtain certain information for wire payments transmitted in a SWIFT 103/103+ format and SWIFT MT101s that result in the SWIFT MT103 format. In order to comply with these regulatory requirements, J.P. Morgan will require complete order party/beneficiary information to be included in any wire payments that are sent or received through your accounts with us in Canada.

- Complete order party/beneficiary information includes: full account name, full account number, full beneficiary bank name, the SWIFT BIC code, and full physical address information. A full physical address must include: street number, street name, city or town, state or province where applicable, and country, preferably in the 2-character ISO format.

In circumstances where a street number is not assigned to a physical location, a description of the location, such as a building and street name, may be acceptable. A P.O. Box is not acceptable without a full physical address. State or province is also required for all U.S. and Canada addresses and for other countries, where applicable. Some Canadian banks also require the Canadian Clearing Code to avoid delays in processing.

Continued

- The ideal size of the mandatory fields for ordering party/beneficiary full account name is 35 characters. For the mandatory ordering party/beneficiary address, full physical address components should fit into the rest of the 3 lines with 35 characters in each line. Where the beneficiary name exceeds one line, the full beneficiary name and full address should fit in 4 lines. The address information should not overflow into other fields to avoid delays or rejection.

- Financial institutions may reject or delay your wires if the required information is not provided or address information does not include a full physical address in the mandatory fields.

Payment Formatting Rules for CAD

- Ordering Customer (SWIFT MT103/MT101 F50): For MT103 wire payments debiting a non-FCB client account, the JPMorgan wire engine will enhance the account name and address from account records. For all other MT103/MT101 formatted wire transactions in and out of Canada, including those paid through an intermediary bank, include account number, full name (no initials), and full physical address of the ordering customer. Use of initials may delay receipt of funds by the beneficiary.
  - When paying CAD to a beneficiary who holds an account with Royal Bank of Canada or the Bank of Nova Scotia, the account number should be 12 digits.
  - Telephone number of the beneficiary may also be provided in SWIFT MT103 F70.

  - All payments in Russian ruble exceeding RUB 100mm need to be routed via the real time gross settlement ("RTGS") clearing system called Banking Electronic Speed Payment System (BESP).

• Payment Restrictions: There are no restrictions on the types of payments allowed.

  - The beneficiary may need to open a passport at the local beneficiary bank for a payment for goods and services or loan exceeding USD 5,000.

• Account Restrictions: Residents and non-residents are permitted to open and maintain domestic and foreign currency accounts either locally or abroad. Residents must notify the tax authorities of any foreign-maintained accounts.

- Information provided by the Beneficiary: Remitter should obtain all required bank information from the Beneficiary (e.g. SWIFT BIC, account number, and beneficiary bank address).
- Central Bank: For additional information, please refer to www.cbc.gov.tw.

Country Requirements/Restrictions

- Payment Restrictions: Taiwan FX markets are regulated. TWD can only be converted in-country.
  - Non-resident entities must be approved by qualified foreign institutional investors (QFII) to access the onshore market without the special regulatory approval. Non-resident entities are not allowed to hold TWD.
  - USD (or other available foreign currencies) can be converted in-country for local delivery, but FX documentation and bank regulatory reporting is required.
  - For individual residents, restrictions exist for sales and purchase of foreign currency against TWD. Maximum cumulative sales or purchases per year is USD $5,000,000 equivalent in gross unless specifically authorized other direct capital investments where there is no limit.
  - For commercial and individual non-residents, limits are defined in the rules regarding foreign institutional investors or other legislation for foreign exchange against TWD movement in and out. For foreign exchange against TWD movements for non-securities investment purposes, TWD transactions are not allowed.
  - For commercial residents, there are no exchange limits for sales or purchases of foreign currency against TWD relating to trade products (import/export proceeds) or labor. For funds transfers and direct capital investments, the maximum cumulative sale or purchase of foreign currency per year for legal entity is USD 50,000,000 equivalent (except for specifically authorized direct capital investments, where there is no limit).
  - In addition to transaction level thresholds, there is a TWD FX maximum limit of USD 50 million (equivalent) per annum for corporations. Items exempt from this limit are payments with special approval from the government (e.g. capital injection etc).
  - For FX conversion against TWD equal or exceeding USD20,000,000, banks in Taiwan need to provide prior notice to Central Bank and seek for verbal guidance from Central Bank to proceed for TWD FX payments. To comply with Central Bank’s verbal guidance, onshore and offshore remitters should split TWD FX payment when such payment is equal or exceeding USD20,000,000.

The following character representations and length indications are used:

- N: Digits numeric characters
- c: Upper and lower case alphanumeric characters (A-Z, a-z, and 0-9)

- Additional Documentation: For TWD FX inward remittance, offshore remitters are not required to provide reason for payment or purpose code. However, the beneficiary must complete remittance declaration forms and provide supporting documentation (if applicable) to explain the reason for payment.
  - On average, for TWD FX inward remittance to JPM Taipei Branch clients, the documentation process may take 2-3 days to complete. For TWD FX inward remittance to non-JPM Taipei Branch clients, incoming payments should always be a fixed TWD amount so that the payment can align to any required supporting documentation. The documentation process may take 10-15 days to complete subject to processing time from beneficiary bank.
  - No FX against TWD transactions can be executed until FX reporting information/documentation is in place. The beneficiary must fill out the required documentation with their local bank by value date to receive credit into the account. If documents are not filled out, the exact payment amount and value date cannot be guaranteed.
  - For tax payments, supporting documentation (i.e., tax bill) from offshore remitter is an acceptable alternative document.
  - FX conversion against TWD amounts exceeding USD 1,000,000 (equivalent) requires a transaction declaration form and additional supporting documents. For inward remittance to non-JPM Taipei Branch clients, in addition to transaction declaration form and additional supporting documents, Inward Remittance Form is also required from beneficiaries.
  - FX conversion against TWD amounts equal or exceeding TWD 500,000 and below USD 1,000,000 (equivalent) require a transaction declaration form. Continued

- Tax codes are required when making payments to the local Vietnamese tax authorities (or equivalent). These tax codes relate to both the sender (Remitter) and the receiver (Beneficiary). The communication of a tax payment will usually occur between the tax authority and the remitter, and a unique tax code tax identifier number will be generated online for the remitter to use when initiating their payment. This code is needed by the local tax authorities in order to recognize that the payment relates to a specific beneficiary.
- VND is a zero decimal currency; payments must be entered as whole.

Additional Information
- Amounts with no decimals to avoid rejection.
- Depending on the beneficiary bank, value date for local clearing payments is within one business day.
- Payments cannot be made to Foreign Indirect Investment Accounts.
