Background

This document sets out a summary of the compensation (remuneration) policy applying to J.P. Morgan Gestion S.G.I.I.C., S.A. (the “Company” or “JPMG”), in respect of the performance year ending 31 December 2019.

In this document, the terms “J.P. Morgan” or “Firm” refers to the J.P. Morgan Chase & Co. group of companies, and each of the entities in that group globally, unless otherwise specified. As part of the Firm, the Company is governed by J.P. Morgan’s global compensation philosophy and pay practices. This document should therefore be read together with the Firm’s latest U.S. Proxy Statement (the “Proxy Statement”)¹ and the latest EMEA Remuneration Policy Disclosure².

This document sets out general principles that are subject to specific provisions contained within the relevant plan terms and conditions as in force from time to time.

This policy statement was last updated in October 2020, with no material changes in policy from the 2019 version.

1. Governance and Oversight

Compensation & Management Development Committee

The Firm strongly believes that its firmwide compensation philosophy and its implementation fosters proper governance and regulatory compliance. That philosophy is subject to independent oversight and control by the Compensation and Management Development Committee (“CMDC”), a committee of the board of J.P. Morgan Chase & Co, the ultimate parent company of the Firm.

The CMDC is comprised entirely of independent directors. The CMDC’s charter and current membership can be found on the Firm’s website³.

The CMDC oversees the Firm’s compensation programs throughout the year, which enables the programs to be proactive in addressing both current and emerging developments or challenges. The key committee responsibilities of the CMDC related to the Firm’s compensation programs include:

- Periodically reviewing and approving a statement of the Firm’s compensation philosophy, principles and practices
- Reviewing the Firm’s compensation practices and the relationship among risk, risk management and compensation (including safety and soundness and avoiding practices that could encourage excessive risk taking)
- Adopting pay practices and approving any necessary formulas, performance metrics or pool calculations in compliance with applicable U.S. and global regulatory, statutory or governance requirements
- Reviewing and approving overall incentive compensation pools (including equity/cash mix)
- Reviewing the business-aligned incentive compensation plan governance, design and evaluation framework
- Reviewing over multiple meetings and approving compensation for the Firm’s Operating Committee and, for the CEO, making a compensation recommendation to the Board for consideration and ratification by the independent directors
- Reviewing compensation for certain regulatory designated employees under Federal Reserve standards (“Tier 1 employees”) and/or Identified Staff (as defined below in the ‘Regulatory Considerations’ section) (together, “Designated Employees”)
- Reviewing and approving the design and terms of compensation awards, including recovery/clawback provisions

Additionally, the CMDC holds an annual joint session with the Board’s Risk Committee to review the firmwide HR and compensation practices, including:

- How the Firm integrates risk, controls and conduct considerations into key HR practices including performance development, compensation, promotion and succession planning
- Compensation features and elements designed to discourage imprudent risk-taking (e.g., multi-year vesting, clawbacks, prohibition on hedging, etc.)
- Annual incentive pool processes for lines of business (“LOBs”) and functions
- Regulatory updates which have impacted or may impact HR practices in the future

The committees are also provided with information on the Firm’s performance development process, a summary of risk, controls, and conduct feedback, and updates regarding HR Control Forum issues.

³ CMDC Charter and current membership is available at: <https://www.jpmorganchase.com/corporate/About-JPMC/ab-compensation-management.htm>

The CMDC met formally 6 times in the 2019 performance year. For that performance year, the CMDC and Board of Directors did not engage the services of a compensation consultant. Instead, the Firm’s Human Resources department provided the CMDC and the Board with both internal and external compensation data and regular updates in an effort to comply with relevant rules and guidance from the Firm’s regulators and applicable laws.

Compensation Philosophy

The Firm’s compensation philosophy provides the guiding principles that drive compensation-related decisions across all levels of the Firm, including the Company. The compensation philosophy promotes an equitable and well-governed approach to compensation which includes pay-for-performance practices that attract and retain top talent in a competitive market, is responsive to and aligned with shareholders, reinforces the Firm’s culture and the Firm’s How We Do Business Principles (“Business Principles”)⁴, and integrates risk, controls, and conduct considerations.

The table below sets forth a summary of the Firm’s compensation philosophy:

Compensation philosophy
Paying for performance and aligning with shareholders’ interests	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> In making compensation-related decisions, the Firm focuses on risk-adjusted performance (the Firm’s risk and control professionals help contextualise the risk taken to achieve the return) and rewards behaviours that generate sustained value for the Firm. This means that compensation should not be overly formulaic, rigid or focused on the short term.
Encouraging a shared success culture	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Teamwork and leadership should be encouraged and rewarded to foster a culture that supports our Business Principles. Contributions should be considered across the Firm, within business units, and at an individual level when evaluating an employee’s performance.
Attracting and retaining top talent	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The Firm’s long-term success depends on the talents of its employees. The Firm’s compensation philosophy plays a significant role in its ability to attract, properly motivate and retain top talent. Competitive and reasonable compensation should help attract and retain the best talent to grow and sustain the Firm’s business.
Integrating risk management and compensation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Risk management, compensation recovery, and repayment policies should be robust and designed to encourage behaving within the standards of integrity that are required by our culture and Business Principles. Excessive risk-taking should be deterred. HR Control Forums should discuss actual or potential misconduct of individuals involved in matters that create material risk, controls, and conduct concerns. Recoupment policies should include recovery of cash and equity compensation. The Firm’s pay practices must comply with applicable rules and regulations, both in the U.S. and globally.
No special perquisites and non-performance based compensation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Compensation should be straightforward and consist primarily of cash and equity incentives. The Firm does not have special supplemental retirement or other special benefits just for executives, nor does it have any change in control agreements, golden parachutes, merger bonuses, or other special severance benefit arrangements for executives.

⁴ The full set of Business Principles is included in “How We Do Business – The Report” which is posted on www.jpmorganchase.com/governance

Maintaining strong governance	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Strong corporate governance is fostered by independent oversight by the board of J.P. Morgan Chase & Co. of the executive compensation program, including defining the Firm's compensation philosophy, reviewing and approving the Firm's overall incentive compensation pools, and approving compensation for the Operating Committee, including the terms of compensation awards. • The Firm has a rigorous process in place to review risk, control, and conduct issues at the Firm, line of business, functional, and regional level, which have impacted compensation pools as well as reduced compensation at the individual level, in addition to other employee actions.
Transparency with shareholders	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Transparency to shareholders regarding the Firm's executive compensation program is important. The Firm discloses all material terms of its executive pay program, and any actions on the part of the Firm in response to significant events, as appropriate.

Alignment of pay practices with compensation philosophy

The effectiveness of the Firm's compensation program is dependent on the alignment of sound pay-for-performance practices with its compensation philosophy as illustrated in the table below:

Alignment of pay practices with compensation philosophy
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Principles-based compensation philosophy Guiding principles that drive compensation-related decision-making across all levels of the Firm. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Competitive Benchmarking The Firm benchmarks pay levels and pay practices against relevant market data.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Robust anti-hedging/anti-pledging provisions Strict prohibition on hedging and pledging of unvested awards and shares owned 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Responsible use of equity The Firm used less than 1% of weighted average diluted shares in 2019 for employee compensation.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Clawback Provisions Comprehensive recovery provisions enable the Firm to cancel or reduce unvested awards and require repayment of previously awarded compensation, if appropriate. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Risk, Controls, and Conduct impacts pay The Firm considers material risk, controls, and conduct issues and makes adjustments to compensation, if appropriate.
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Pay-at-Risk Appropriately balanced short-, medium-, and long-term incentives that are linked to long-term, sustainable value, safety and soundness. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Robust Shareholder Engagement Each year, the firm provides the Board of J.P. Morgan Chase & Co with feedback from shareholders on a variety of topics, including the Firm's compensation programs and practices.

In addition, Operating Committee members are required to retain significant portions of net shares received from awards to increase ownership over the long-term. Further details on stock ownership and retention requirements are included in the Firm's Proxy Statement.

Regulatory considerations

As a financial services business, the Company is subject to multiple regulations on compensation.

Many of these regulations require the Firm to identify employees who, due to their role and / or responsibilities, are designated as “material risk takers” (also referred to as “Identified Staff”). Often Identified Staff are governed by more prescriptive rules in respect to their compensation, including the structure of their incentive (variable) compensation.

The Firm does not pay variable remuneration through vehicles or methods that are intended to facilitate non-compliance with any applicable remuneration rules.

Under the Alternative Investment Fund Managers Directive (“AIFMD”) and the latest iteration of the Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities Directive (“UCITS V”), the Company is required to identify individuals who, due to their role and / or responsibilities, could potentially have a material impact on its risk profile or that of the Alternative Investment Funds (“AIFs”) and UCITS funds it manages. Individuals are designated as Identified Staff under AIFMD and UCITS V based on the guidance set out by the European Securities and Markets Authority and any applicable local regulations (“AIFMD Identified Staff” and “UCITS Identified Staff” respectively, together referred to as “Identified Staff”).

Individuals classified as Identified Staff for the Company include (but are not limited to):

- Members of the Board of Directors of the Company
- Senior management of JPMG
- Heads of Risk and Compliance
- Heads of key functions, including Finance, Human Resources and Operations
- Heads of Portfolio Management and other senior Portfolio Managers (depending on the size and materiality of the funds they manage)

The Identified Staff group is reviewed on an ongoing basis and Identified Staff are notified of their status and any impact on their remuneration structure. An individual may be Identified Staff under one or both of AIFMD and UCITS V.

Legal Entity governance

The CMDC periodically reviews the Firm’s compensation philosophy and its implementation, which include pay-for-performance practices that attract and retain top talent, are aligned with shareholders, reinforce the Firm’s culture and Business Principles, integrate risk, controls, and conduct considerations, and comply with relevant requirements. The CMDC receives updates on material regulatory developments which may impact remuneration structure or practices to understand the Firm’s obligations in this area, including in relation to the Company.

In addition, where applicable, the Board of Directors of the Company is responsible for reviewing and adopting, at least annually, the terms of the applicable remuneration policy, and overseeing its implementation as it applies to the entity.

At the time of publication, the Board last reviewed the applicable remuneration policy in June 2020. The Board found that no material changes were required to the policy and were satisfied with its implementation.

The Company’s Risk and Compliance functions are involved in the review of the applicable remuneration policy, including reviewing the approach to the identification of its Identified Staff. The Firm’s Internal Audit function annually conducts independent testing that includes an evaluation of the design, implementation and effectiveness of the Firm’s remuneration policies, including an assessment of compliance with regulatory requirements, and its findings are presented to the relevant Boards.

On an annual basis, the Company reviews the application of the AIFMD and UCITS V payout process rules to the compensation of Identified Staff with particular consideration of the guidelines regarding proportionality. As of the last review, the Company has concluded that its size, internal organisation, nature, scope and complexity of its activities are such that it is proportionate to disapply these requirements.

For the avoidance of doubt, AIFMD and UCITS Identified Staff will continue to be subject to the firmwide policies on the deferral of variable compensation, payment in instruments and Malus / Clawback provisions, which are further described below. Any individual designated as Identified Staff under other regulations applicable to the Firm (e.g. CRD IV) will be subject to the relevant remuneration requirements.

Measures taken to avoid conflicts of interest

The Firm's compensation governance practices contain a number of measures to avoid conflicts of interest, including the following:

- The CMDC is composed entirely of independent directors and provides independent oversight of the Firm's compensation philosophy
- The Firm conducts robust performance development reviews for all employees. For employees holding certain regulatory designations, including Identified Staff, part of this process includes soliciting additional feedback directly from Risk and Control professionals who independently assess the employee's risk and control behaviour
- All employees are prohibited from the hedging and pledging of unvested equity awards and unexercised options or stock appreciation rights. Operating Committee members are also prohibited from the hedging and pledging of shares owned outright or through deferred compensation
- There is active engagement, transparency and assessments of risk and control issues by Risk, Compliance and Internal Audit ("Control Function") heads, senior management and subject matter experts across the Firm
- Remuneration for the Control Functions is determined by reference to independent objectives and the incentive compensation allocations for these groups are managed separately from the LOBs that the Control Functions cover
- The Firm's Chief Executive Officer, Chief Risk Officer, Chief Financial Officer and Director of Human Resources review incentive compensation pool recommendations which are then presented to the CMDC in December. Additionally, the CMDC holds an annual joint session with the Board Risk Committee in December to review the ways in which the Firm integrates risk, controls and conduct considerations into key HR and compensation practices. In January, the CMDC makes the ultimate decision on the appropriate incentive pool after the joint committee discussion
- Individual compensation decisions are also subject to oversight and governance, including HR review. Highly paid individuals are subject to review by the Firm's Operating Committee and the CMDC
- Strong clawback and recovery provisions cover all forms of incentive compensation combined with formal and disciplined processes for review and determinations
- Performance development and related compensation processes focus on delivering products and services to maintain a focus on safeguarding, developing and deepening long term and sustained client relationships based on client needs
- A portion of the variable remuneration for certain of the Investor population (including Portfolio Managers and Research Analysts) of the Company are subject to a mandatory deferral in units that track the funds they manage/contribute to. The Firm has assessed the potential conflicts of interest arising from this arrangement and is satisfied that the best interests of clients are better served by aligning variable pay to the performance of the funds under management

2. Compensation Structure

The Firm's disciplined pay-for-performance framework focuses on Total Compensation – base salary and incentive pay - so that pay is commensurate with the overall performance of the Firm, respective businesses and individual performance. This includes a balanced discretionary approach to assess the employee's performance throughout the year against four broad dimensions - business results, client/customer/stakeholder, teamwork and leadership, and risk, controls, and conduct.

Fixed compensation is set at a level which allows a fully flexible policy on incentive (variable) compensation, including the possibility to pay zero incentive compensation. Where applicable, the Firm complies with limits on the ratio between fixed and variable compensation, in accordance with the applicable regulation.

The following sections set out the components of compensation that may be available to staff of the Company.

Components of fixed compensation

Fixed compensation consists primarily of base salary. Many factors can influence an employee's base salary, such as the role, experience level, market pay levels for comparable jobs, location of the job, and available talent. Base salary can be all, or a meaningful part, of an employee's Total Compensation, depending on the LOB/Function and the level of the role. Base salary is typically reviewed annually as part of the year-end planning cycle, with any increases generally taking effect in February of the following year.

Individual salary increases are managed within the context of the Firm's annual salary budget. The Firm's overall annual salary budgets are determined after reviewing expenses, economic outlook, market competition, country-specific inflation and other relevant factors.

Base salaries are supplemented by benefits and pension contributions, provided in accordance with local market practice and company objectives. They include, but are not limited to, the provision of (typically) defined contribution pension plans (including certain matched employer contributions), medical coverage, life insurance and other routine employment benefits. In certain locations, employees may receive fixed allowances reflecting their role, responsibilities or experience ("Fixed Allowances") or local costs of living ("Local Allowances"). Fixed Allowances and Local Allowances are not based on performance, and are generally paid in cash on a monthly basis.

In the case of employees on international assignments, other fixed allowances may be provided in addition to base salary taking into account living costs and applicable tax rates in their host country and/or the role to which the member of staff has been assigned ("Assignment Allowances"). Such staff may participate in the pension arrangements as are applicable to their home country and be eligible for tax/legal support.

The Firm does not provide discretionary pension benefits based on performance.

Components of incentive (variable) compensation

In the Company, incentive (variable) compensation is primarily delivered through the Firm's Annual Incentive Compensation Plan, a discretionary compensation program that aligns with the key tenets included in the Firm's compensation philosophy. The plan serves to motivate and reward employees for delivering sustained results and demonstrating a heavy focus on risk, controls and the Firm's Business Principles.

Discretionary incentive compensation ("IC") delivered under this plan can be composed of the following:

- Cash Incentive
- Retained Stock (only awarded to Identified Staff)
- Restricted Stock Units ("RSUs")

- Performance Share Units (“PSUs”) (only awarded to members of the Firm’s Operating Committee)
- Deferred Cash (only awarded to Identified Staff)
- Mandatory Investor Plan (“MIP”) (only awarded to certain employees in the Asset & Wealth Management LOBs)

Awards are subject to the Firm’s right to cancel or reduce an unvested or unexercised award (“Malus”), and require repayment of the value of certain shares distributed under awards already vested (“Clawback”) in certain circumstances, as further described below. Further details on these components of IC are set out below.

Cash Incentive

The portion of IC payable in cash is generally delivered shortly after the end of the relevant performance year. Generally, as employees become more senior or the impact of their role increases, a greater portion of IC will be awarded in deferred vehicles (see below).

Retained Stock

For Identified Staff, a portion of non-deferred IC may be delivered in immediately vested stock which is subject to a post-vesting retention period during which the shares acquired may not be sold, pledged, assigned or transferred to a private brokerage account. The length of this retention period and the proportion of IC delivered in Retained Stock is at least in line with the minimum required by the applicable regulations under which they are designated as Identified Staff.

Restricted Stock Units

The deferred equity portion of IC is awarded in the form of RSUs (each RSU represents a right to receive one share of JPMorgan Chase common stock on the vesting date). Dividend equivalents are paid on the RSUs at the time actual dividends are paid on common stock, other than where prohibited under local regulations.

The percentage of IC being deferred and awarded is higher for more highly compensated employees, thus increasing the aggregate value subject to the continued performance of the Firm’s stock. All Managing Directors are subject to a 35% minimum deferral irrespective of their level of compensation.

Generally, 50% of the RSU portion of the award vests on the second anniversary of the grant date and 50% vests on the third anniversary of the grant date. For Identified Staff, the RSU portion may vest in equal annual tranches pro-rata over the deferral period, but no faster.

Also for Identified Staff, the RSUs may be subject to a post-vesting retention period during which the shares acquired may not be sold, pledged, assigned or transferred to a private brokerage account. The length of this retention period, the proportion of IC deferred in equity and the length of the deferral period is at least in line with the minimum required by the applicable regulations under which they are designated as Identified Staff.

Performance Stock Units

The Firm has a long-term incentive compensation program consisting of Performance Share Units (“PSUs”), which are currently only awarded to members of the Firm’s Operating Committee. Further details are set out in the Firm’s Proxy Statement.

Deferred Cash

For Identified Staff, deferred incentives may also be awarded in the form of deferred cash which vests over a multi-year period in line with RSUs awarded in respect of the same performance year. Interest is accrued on Deferred Cash and paid at, and subject to, vesting other than where prohibited under local regulations.

Mandatory Investor Plan

For staff of the Company, deferred incentives may also be awarded in fund-tracking units under the Mandatory Investor Plan. Selected individuals in the “Investor” population (including Portfolio Managers and Research Analysts) are subject to a mandatory deferral of long-term incentive compensation under the MIP. Sales employees on a selective basis may also participate in the MIP on a voluntary basis.

MIP awards provide for a rate of return equal to that of the funds/strategies that the Investors cover. The goal of the MIP is to align the Investors’ pay with that of their client’s experience and to provide a direct long-term link between how the Investors perform and how they are paid. Subject to any minimum mandatory equity requirements for relevant Identified Staff, 100% of the Investors’ deferred incentive compensation is eligible for the MIP of which 50% is required to be notionally invested in the specific fund/strategy they cover as determined by their respective Investment Team Head and approved by the relevant Investment Committee. The remaining portion of the overall amount is electable and may be notionally invested in other funds/strategies made available under the plan and/or can take the form of RSUs.

Awards to new hires and leavers

The Company does not award guaranteed variable compensation except on an exceptional basis when hiring new staff and limited to the first year of employment. Such awards would not be made if the relevant Legal Entity did not have a sound and strong capital base.

The Firm may replace unvested awards forfeited by new hires from their previous employer (“Buy-out Awards”) if such awards align with the long term interests of the Company. Buy-outs for Identified Staff will comply with the appropriate regulatory requirements.

All payments made on termination of employment must align with local legal and regulatory requirements and must be consistent with the Firm’s aim of ensuring that individuals are not rewarded for failure or misconduct (this includes no “golden parachutes”). Identified Staff are reviewed prior to separating from the Firm to determine if they are associated with any risk, controls, and conduct issues that may warrant consideration and/or monitoring for potential forfeiture or clawback of an award.

In cases of redundancy and similar situations, employees may be eligible to receive a payment and/or arrangements under relevant social plans, policies, practices, agreements or local laws, under which such payments and/or arrangements will be determined in accordance with formulas set out in the applicable social plans, policies, practices, agreements or local laws.

Compensation of Non-Executive Directors

Non-Executive Directors receive only fixed compensation, based on their experience, role (including Board Committee membership) and time commitment. Where a Non-Executive Director also performs an executive role within another part of the Firm, the individual’s variable compensation reflects only their executive duties. Such Non-Executive Directors may still be eligible to receive a fixed annual fee based on their time commitment.

3. Link between Pay and Performance

As described in the Firm's compensation philosophy, in making compensation related decisions, the Firm focuses on risk adjusted performance (the Firm's risk and control professionals help contextualise the risk taken to achieve the return) and rewards behaviours that generate sustained value for the Firm. This means compensation should not be overly formulaic, rigid or focused on the short-term.

The CMDC uses a disciplined pay-for-performance framework to make decisions about compensation so that compensation is commensurate with the overall performance of the Firm, the respective businesses and individual performance.

Setting of incentive compensation pools

Each major LOB and function is allocated incentive compensation funding as part of the annual year-end compensation process.

These compensation pools are determined by executive management and the CMDC based on a holistic review of the performance of the Firm and LOB/function, and take into consideration several key criteria including:

- Business results
- Risk, Controls, and Conduct
- Progress against key strategic framework
- Alignment with the Firm's operating principles
- Market competition and trends
- Other factors, including major staffing decisions and other qualitative factors, including adherence to our Business Principles

A variety of financial measures are used to assess the Firm's financial performance,, including but not limited to Revenue, Net Income, Return on Capital in excess of cost of capital, Shareholder Value Added, and Return on Tangible Common Equity. Financial performance is measured at multiple levels where possible, including LOB and sub-LOB level.

Incentive compensation pools are determined in the context of the Firm's capital and liquidity considerations, and are set at a level that does not limit the ability of the Firm or LOB to strengthen its capital base. Each LOB incurs capital charges as if they were stand-alone businesses as part of the allocation process that underscores incentive accruals and pool determinations.

Performance Development

The Firm's performance development process actively manages the performance of its employees through the year, taking into account both what has been accomplished and how it was accomplished. To that end, the Firm uses both quantitative and qualitative criteria to assess performance and to then inform individual compensation determinations.

Performance Dimensions

All employees are evaluated against four performance dimensions:

- Business Results
- Client / Customer / Stakeholder
- Teamwork and Leadership
- Risk, Controls, and Conduct

These performance dimensions appropriately consider short, medium and long-term priorities that drive sustained shareholder value, while accounting for risk, controls, and conduct objectives. To promote a proper pay-for-performance alignment, the Firm does not assign relative weightings to these dimensions and also considers other relevant factors, including market practices.

Priorities and expectations

The Firm has specific expectations under each performance dimension which differ depending on the employee's level and / or role. Demonstrating the expected behaviours consistent with the Firm's Business Principles and Code of Conduct is an important factor in the performance development process and these expectations are generally incorporated into these standard expectations which are available to employees in the Firm's performance development system. These also contain an expectation that our employees and managers will hire, train and retain great diverse employees, promote an inclusive work environment and engage in diversity initiatives.

Employees may set additional priorities against each performance dimension and collaborate with managers on career development plans. As priority setting is an ongoing and iterative process, employees and their managers may, through regular check-ins, discuss progress against priorities throughout the year.

The Risk, Controls and Conduct dimension is a key focus for the Firm and there currently are three expectations specific to this dimension: (1) Drives a robust risk/control environment, (2) Demonstrates expected behaviours, and (3) Identifies, escalates and remediates issues.

As described above, the compensation and performance development process for Control Functions is determined by reference to priorities that are independent from the LOBs that the Control Functions support.

Performance feedback

Managers and employees receive holistic performance feedback, including on Risk, Controls, and Conduct, gathered in a number of ways, including from the employee's peers, managers, colleagues, direct reports and other team members. Where relevant, feedback may also be gathered on performance in respect of a specific legal entity. Code of Conduct data in relation to written warnings is embedded in the Performance Development tool and managers confirm they considered these when completing the employee's performance assessment. Examples of control outputs for which impacts are considered for an individual include receipt of certain disciplinary outcomes for Employee Relations Code of Conduct issues.

Performance ratings

The Firm operates a multiple ratings approach using a 3-point scale (with no overall rating) to assess employees at every level against each of the performance dimensions, with the exception of the Risk, Controls, and Conduct category.

Managers are required to record a performance rating against each performance dimension reflecting the employee's performance considering priorities, firmwide expectations by level and any feedback received. The 3-point performance rating scale is as follows:

- Strong
- On Track
- Growth Area

For the Risk, Controls, and Conduct assessment, employees are evaluated via two different processes. Managers assess Managing Directors, Executive Directors and Identified Staff either as "As Expected for Role" or "Less Than Expected". Managers answer a question for Vice President and below employees as to whether they exhibit behaviours in line with the Risk, Controls, and Conduct expectations. The manager's determination of an assessment is informed by their own direct knowledge of the employee's risk taking activities and risk outcomes, reported conduct issues, as well as feedback the manager has received from various sources of information, such as those noted above and in the following section.

Performance Development reviews for Identified Staff

For Identified Staff, part of the enhanced review process includes soliciting feedback directly from risk and control professionals who independently assess employees' risk, controls, and conduct behaviour. This feedback is used to assess whether the employee is meeting the Firm's risk/control behaviour expectations and to provide input to managers to help hold individuals accountable for this aspect of their performance. The feedback from this process is intended to help identify individuals responsible for significant risk and control behaviour or conduct issues, supervisory issues (e.g., failure to appropriately supervise, reasonably anticipate a material issue, or take appropriate action when the issue arose), and other risk and control related issues that impact the individual's business unit and/or the Firm.

This input is used in managers' evaluations of the performance of Identified Staff and is considered in determining a manager's overall performance evaluation of the employee and the determination of the employee's Risk, Controls, and Conduct Assessment, as well as determining any annual incentive compensation, and when appropriate, any recovery or clawback actions taken by the Firm.

Performance Development reviews for Investors

When conducting the balanced assessment of performance for the Investor population, regard is also given to the performance of relevant funds / strategies. Each Investor's performance is evaluated annually based on a number of factors, including, but not limited to:

- blended investment performance relative to the competitive indices or peers, with investment performance generally weighted more to the long term;
- individual contribution relative to the client's risk and return objectives; and
- adherence with the Firm's compliance, risk, regulatory and client fiduciary responsibilities.

An individual performance assessment using the criteria above, in addition to the overall performance of the relevant business unit and investment team, is integrated into the final assessment of IC for an individual Investor as part of the assessment of Business Results.

4. Risk Management

As described in J.P. Morgan's compensation philosophy, risk management, compensation recovery and repayment policies should be robust and designed to encourage behaving with the standards of integrity that are required by the Firm's culture and Business Principles. Excessive risk-taking should be deterred.

Risk, Controls, and Conduct review process

The Firm's compensation program is designed to hold employees accountable, when appropriate, for meaningful actions or issues that negatively impact business performance or the Firm's reputation in current or future years.

Issues that may warrant recovery determinations can be raised at any time, including in meetings of the Firm's risk committees, HR Control Forums, annual assessments of employee performance and when Designated Employees resign or their employment is terminated by the Firm.

The Firm maintains review processes to evaluate risk, controls, and conduct issues and to identify individuals who may be subject to remedial actions such as impacts to compensation and/or termination.

The HR Control Forums discuss actual or potential misconduct of individuals involved in matters that create material risk and control concerns. Misconduct in this context is defined as:

- Intentional employee misconduct or behaviour in a manner injurious to the firm; or
- Gross negligence in performance of job function(s), including inappropriate or inadequate managerial oversight, in a manner injurious to the firm

Issues may be raised through Lines of Business / functions (Regional and Global), Control Committee, Risk Committee, or HR Control Forum Members on behalf of their functions (Audit, Legal, Risk, Compliance, and Control Management).

The process is both bottoms up (Region/LOB) and top down (Firm-wide) and includes various touch points through the year to review risk, controls, and conduct issues, culminating with the year-end Firm-wide HR Control Forum.

The Firmwide HR Control Forums review outputs from and provide feedback to LOB/ Functions/regional HR Control Forums and provide constructive challenge. The CMDC reviews a summary of outcomes of the Firmwide HR Control Forums and the outcomes of these Forums are factored into overall bonus pools and individual incentive compensation, where appropriate.

Identified Staff are reviewed prior to separating from the Firm to determine if they are associated with any risk, controls, or conduct issues that may warrant current or potential future monitoring for forfeiture or clawback of an award.

To hold individuals responsible for taking risks inconsistent with the Firm's risk appetite and to discourage future imprudent behaviour, the Firm has policies and procedures that enable it to take prompt and proportionate actions with respect to accountable individuals, including:

- Reduce or altogether eliminate annual incentive compensation
- Cancel unvested awards (in full or in part)
- Clawback/Recover previously paid compensation (cash and/or equity)
- Demotion, negative performance rating or other appropriate employment actions
- Termination of employment

The precise actions the Firm may take with respect to accountable individuals are based on the relevant circumstances, including the nature of their involvement, the magnitude of the event, the impact on the Firm, and local laws. A description of the relevant recovery provisions is set out below.

Malus and Clawback provisions

The Firm maintains Malus and Clawback provisions on both cash incentives and deferred awards, which enable the Firm to reduce or cancel unvested awards and recover previously paid compensation in certain situations. While incentive awards are intended and expected to vest according to their terms, the Firm's strong recovery provisions permit recovery of incentive compensation awards in appropriate circumstances.

All incentive awards are subject to the Firm's Bonus Recoupment Policy, which is available on the Firm's external website⁵. In addition, all incentive awards for Identified Staff are subject to the extensive Malus and Clawback provisions summarised in the table below, as well as additional provisions where required by local regulations. In particular, all IC awards (upfront and deferred) made to relevant CRD IV Identified Staff regulated in the UK are subject to an extended clawback regime as required by local UK regulations.

Culture and Conduct

The Firm reinforces its culture and remains focused on managing employee conduct. The Firm's Business Principles are embedded throughout the employee lifecycle, starting with the onboarding process and extending to training, compensation, promoting and rewarding employees; and the Firm's performance development and compensation processes are designed to hold employees accountable for their conduct, where appropriate. The Firm strives to clearly and frequently communicate our expectations that all employee conduct must adhere to the highest ethical standards encompassed by the Firm's Business Principles, including through town hall meetings and senior leadership messages and by including culture and conduct related themes in the Firm's employee surveys.

The Firm endeavours to promote a culture of respect that allows every employee to feel safe and empowered at work. To that end, the Firm has in place employee training and protocols for preventing, reporting and addressing sexual, discriminatory or other misconduct and prohibits retaliation against an individual because the person reported a concern or assisted with any inquiry or investigation.

With the Business Principles serving as a guide for how we do business, the Firm's Code of Conduct (the "Code") is a collection of standards and policies that we expect employees to follow in order to operate with the highest level of integrity and ethical conduct. All employees are periodically trained on the principles, obligations, and requirements under the Code, and must annually affirm that they have read, understand, and are in compliance with the Code.

Alongside this framework is the Firm's Conduct Risk Program which is governed by the Compliance, Conduct and Operational Risk Management Policy which establishes the framework for governance, identification, measurement, monitoring, and testing, management and reporting within the Firm. Conduct Risk is the responsibility of each LOB, function, and employee and each LOB or function is accountable for identifying and managing its conduct risk to provide appropriate engagement, ownership and sustainability of a culture consistent with the Business Principles. The CMDC provides oversight of the Firm's culture, including reviewing updates from management regarding significant employee conduct issues.

The Firm's performance development and incentive compensation processes (see Section 3 above) are consistent with the Conduct Risk Management Standard, including the management of actual or potential misconduct of individuals who may be involved in material risk and control issues which can be escalated to the HR Control Forums (see Section 4 above).
