J.P. Morgan companies and some of J.P. Morgan's clients have recently encountered a number of suspected fraud cases, in which certain unauthorized persons have falsely assumed the sham identity of "J.P. Morgan employee" in soliciting foreign exchange margin trading businesses and guaranteeing returns through various channels, such as online social networks (e.g, Facebook), the Internet, or telephone calls. To prevent any harm to your interests, J.P. Morgan hereby clarifies that J.P. Morgan does not conduct any such foreign exchange margin trading business in Taiwan and has never engaged or authorized any person or employee to sell or solicit any such foreign exchange margin trading product or business. If you encounter any similar solicitation, please do not respond to it to avoid being defrauded.
