

J.P. Morgan Canada Tax Payment site – What's New?

Introduction

The upgraded J.P. Morgan Canada Tax Payment site features new security features and functionality improving the security and resiliency of the Tax Application. Additionally, the Canada Tax Payment application has been enhanced to include bill payment capabilities.

1. Starting October 1, 2018, any existing clients will be prompted to set security questions for their profile, as per below.
  - i. Client can use the drop down menu to select the questions from the fixed lists.
  - ii. Create answers for each question in the response box
  - iii. Once all unique questions are selected and responses are entered, click Submit

Moving forward, any new clients that sign up for Tax filings and/or Bill Payment will be required to set up security questions.

Note: There must be no duplicate selection for the Security Questions; if so, the system will alert you.

4. The Canada Tax Payment application has been enhanced to include bill payment capabilities. Clients who wish to subscribe to the service must reach out to their Relationship Manager to implement the service.
5. Subscribing clients have the option to choose either one or both of the services (tax and/or bill payments). The page for Add Payment type now will vary based on the services used by the client. The service combination are as follows:
  - i. Tax Filing and Payment service only (transit 1000)
  - ii. Bill Payment service only (transit 2000)
  - iii. Tax Payment and Bill Payment services (transit 3000)

The current screen for Add Payment Type is below. This will be same for the clients that continue to use only Tax Filing and Payment service (transit 1000).
